Judge Marty Nosich Hosts Joseph Badger High School Students

Abigail Demsey

Judge Marty Nosich, of the Trumbull County Eastern District Court in Brookfield, recently hosted eight Badger high school seniors for a job-shadowing project. The students spent their day observing court employees, attorneys, and other court personnel. In addition to this, the students were able to observe criminal cases throughout the day, some of which with quite unique scenarios. At the end of the day the students were provided lunch and had the opportunity to ask Judge Nosich questions about his background, the judicial system, and about the court proceedings that they witnessed. Several students indicated this was their first exposure to the judicial system and seeing real court cases. Badger student Kyleigh Lasko said, "Never have I thought that I would want to go back to court, but after all we got to see and hear, I want to go back every day!"

Judge Nosich stated that he was excited for the opportunity to work with Badger schools and the students. Judge Nosich said, "I want to thank Principal Bill Hamilton for helping put this together and provide Badger students with a great opportunity. I would also like to thank Mr. Pat Carney for chaperoning the students. They were well behaved the entire time; I believed they learned a lot and had fun doing it. I hope we have inspired the next generation to pursue a career in the public service sector. I look forward to the possibility of hosting Badger students again in the near future."
